Scores a Social Success.

One of the pleasantest of the season's party given at the Warwick last night y St. Cecilia Twenty No. 9. There were fully 200 persons present. The main hall on the first floor had been cleared of its furniture and the carpet vas covered with canvass. The parlors of the hotel were prettily decor-ated with ferne and palms. Divans partially concealed by tropical plants, were arranged along the corridors, forming attractive nooks for weary dancers.

In addition to the guests, a large number of spectators thronged about the balustrades of the court, and the balustrades of the court, and watched the merry dancers trip to the music of the orchestrs. The program was not a long one, fifteen numbers being danced. Ices and light refreshments were served to the guests. Braun's orchestra furnished the music for the evening's entertainment. The event will add about $100 to the building fund.

ART EXHIBIT.

Some of the Work Displayed by the Local Art Association.

The Grand Rapids Art association begun last night in rooms Nos. 721-727 of the Michigan Trust building. The exhibition is far superior to that of last year, both in size and quality of the work. The gem of the collection is F. Selzer's "Siessa." Among the works in oil that attract attention are Frank Selzer's "Shepard and Sheep." F. W. Freer's "A Farson's Daughter," Mrs. E. M. Coppen's "When the Dew is on the l'umpkins and the Fodder's in the Shoca," "Lady With Veil," also by Mrs. Coppens; "A Meadow Road," by Kruseman Van Ellen, and an Athenian Flowergirt by Will Beebe.

The water color department is more exhibition is far superior to that of last Flowergirl by Will Beebe.

The water color department is more complete, and contains some exquisite hits of work. Among the more promiment are "A Grand Dune" by F. W. Freer, "Tyroler" by J. H. Hatselman, Carnations and sweet peas by Mus Dodge, poppies, orchids and chrysanthemums by Miss Doirs, a country road and Traverse Point by Cora Cady, "Waiting for the Tide" and "An October Day" by Mrs. Torrey, some passies by Miss Annin and cucumbers by Mrs. E. M. Scott. There are a number of well executed charcoal and water color sketches on exhibition. The exhibitors are as follows: F. Selzer, Mrs. E. M. Coppens, Ehzabeth Creveling, Minnie Doirs and Miss L. G. Annin, Miss Dodge, Miss Cora Cady. J. H. Hasselman, Mrs. M. D. Jones, Miss Gortrude Smith, Will L. ST. MATTHEWS' FAIR.

A Pleasing Programme Pro

St. Matthews' Episcopal mission, on the corner of Quimby street and North avenue, presented an entrancing appearance at the opening of the "Columbian World's Fair" last evening. Tastily decorated booths were arranged around the room and presided over by the women of the church. About 500 persons were present last evening, netting the church society about $100. The following programme was rendered:

Saritone solo, "The Skipper," W. S. Duet, "When Life is Brightest," Miss Courtright and Mrs. Mahon. Solo, "The Anchor Weighed," H. B.

Saynor.

Piano solo, Miss Courtright.

Ten-minute address by Judge Burch on "The Wants of Grand Rapida."

Light refreshments were served in one of the booths. The fair, which will last all the week, starts off with every prospect of being very successful. DEATH OF FRED LAMOREAUX.

Walker's Township Treasurer Died Yes-

Fred A. Lamoreaux, township treasurer of Walker, died at 1 o'clock yesterday morning of typhoid fever. Deceased had been sick six weeks. Mr. Lamoreaux was a prosperous young dairy farmer, doing a large milk business in the city, and lived almost directly across the river from the Soldiers' home, near his father's place, where he was born. He was nearly 31 years of age, and had lived most of his life near this city. He was a nephew of Mrs. Hunter Savidge of Spring Lake, and was for three or four years with the Cutler & Savidge Lumber company. terday morning of typhoid fever. De-pany.

He was married some two years ago to Gertrude Voorthuizen, but leaves no children. His parents and three brothers survive him. He recently joined the Knights of the Maccabese and carried $2,000 insurance. The funeral will be held from the house at 1 p. m.

VAN ZANDT CASE SETTLED.

Trustee Randall Appointed. An order was made by Judge Perkins sterday which finally settles up the tong and tedious Van Zandt-Northrup case. The order of the court was that all accounts be allowed and approved, and that the estate of Bosalis M. Smith, amounting to $33,101.02 in cash and $8,280.80 now in the hands of the executor of the estate, N.W. Northrup, be paid to Marie J. Van Zandt. The judge also ordered that Mr. Northrup pay $3,000 toward the expense of Miss Van Zandt's hitgation, also that this sum of $11,280.80 be paid to the attorneys as follows: J. C. Fitzgerald $1,163.39, Fitzgerald & Barry $2,157.75, F. L. Carpenter $4,725.63, F. L. Carpenter, administrator, $683.7, F. A. Stow $185, and the balance, $2,334.86 to Miss Van Zandt.

Van Zandt.

These sums were paid and the balance of the estate, $21,820,22, was paid over to the new trustee, Lewis E. Randall, who was appointed in place of Mr. Northrup on the petition of Miss Van Zandt. Mr. Northrup by the order of the court was discharged and all hability and trouble concerning his administration of the estate was quieted. Miss Van Zandt signed her consent to the order and thus forever stopped Miss Van Zaudt signed her consent to the order and thus forever stopped further litigation in the case.

City News in Brief.

The Grand Rapids School Furniture company filed a mechanic's lien on the seats in Baird's opera house in Lansing and began removing the seats, claiming mability to get their pay. The proceeding has been stopped by an injunction, the claim being made that the seats could not be removed except by virtue of an execution. The case is on trial in the Ingham circuit.

A Happy Surprise to Johnnie. Johnnie Scott was a surprised boy yesterday when his mother gave him a new winter coat.

It was the result of Mrs. Scott's use of Diamond Dyes on one of her husband's old garments. The "fast black for wool" dye gave a beautiful color that is absolutely fast, and not one could tell Johnnie's coat from a new one. "The black Diamond Dyes are having a large sale this winter," said a Grand Rapide druggist, "and they always give satisfaction."

The garments received in cloak robes de ville, robes de bal, toilets de dinner and costumes de voyage, Louis XVI and oriental gowns, Spanish General's wraps and other novelties. These choice selections are imported in designs ready for fitting and use. They are in velvets, silks, brocades and fine wools, of plain and fancy weaves, to suit the taste of customers. Among them are many exquisite conceptions, and all are now snown for the first time in America. One dainty opera cloak, after a Worth model, sixteenth contury design, is made of delicate blue brocade satin, lined in white silk and trimmed in shell pink feather trimming. A great favorite with the ladies is a Spanish General's wrap, six yards around the skirt, of navy blue wool trimmed in fur. A carriage robe in mauve, with pheasant feather trimming, is much
